DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Acknowledgment is made of applicant's claim for foreign priority under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d). The certified copy has been filed in parent Application No. 09/091,544, filed on 1 July 1998.

Election/Restrictions

2. This application (as of the 'Amendment' filed on 10 March 2006) contains claims directed to at least the following patentably distinct species:

Species I, drawn to a groove having no flat surface on bottom and having a substantially V-shaped surface relative to an upper surface of an underlying insulating layer being formed in regions between adjacent pixel electrodes on a surface of the underlying insulating layer [see Fig. 4(b); Page 17, Paragraph 81 of the instant specification, for instance], requiring at least a separate field of search in class 345, subclass 90 (i.e. control means at each liquid crystal display element); and

Species II, drawn to a groove having no flat surface on bottom and having a substantially V-shaped surface relative to an upper surface of an underlying insulating layer being formed in regions between adjacent pixel electrodes on a surface of a light-shielding layer under the underlying insulating layer [see Fig. 4(c); Page 17,

Art Unit: 2629

Paragraph 82 of the instant specification, for instance], requiring at least a separate field of search in class 349, subclass 41 (i.e. liquid crystal display element with a particular switching device).

The species are independent or distinct because the species do not overlap in scope, i.e., are mutually exclusive; the species are not obvious variants; and the species each have a materially different design, mode of operation, function, and effect. Furthermore, each species would require a different field of search, ultimately resulting in a burdensome search and examination. Although the aforementioned divergent subject matter was more or less intact at the time of the previous office action (mailed 13 December 2005), the applicants' claim amendments and ensuing remarks filed 10 March 2006 have persuaded the examiner that independent/distinct species are present, which if left unchecked would result in a serious examination burden henceforth.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1-11 appear to be generic to the aforementioned species.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

3. A telephone call was made to Mr. James A. Oliff (Registration No. 27,075) on 24 May 2006 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.
